

Holly Muir is a 2005 Conemaugh Township Graduate. She obtained a degree from West Virginia University in Accounting and started her career as a corporate Financial Consultant with Deloitte in New York City. Eventually, her career ended up taking her to Boston. There she led the creation of a practice under the Peloton Consulting Group Umbrella as Vice President. Their firm has rapidly grown domestically and globally (Latin America and Asia Pacific). It also has made the INC 500 fastest growing firms for the last 5 years, and was featured in CIO Look magazine's "Best Workplace for Women".

In her downtime, she loves to travel and spend time with her family. She especially loves spending time with her daughter, Natalie. Out of everywhere she has lived, she mentions that Johnstown is still one of her favorite places to be. She currently lives in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Throughout Holly's high school career, her favorite teacher was Mrs. Birkhimer. Holly states, "She was the new teacher right out of college during my junior year and was our Student Council sponsor. My friends and I spent many hours hanging out with Mrs. B planning various social events!" Holly goes on to say that there were way too many fond memories from high school. She says, "The memories I made in high school are some of the best of my life."
