

After graduating from Conemaugh Township Area Middle School/High School in 1985, Roxanne Buncich, formerly Flaim, attended the Indiana University of Pennsylvania receiving a bachelor's degree in Education. After graduation, she taught in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania before moving back to the Conemaugh Township area to raise her two children. Roxanne was then hired at the North Star School District, where she is still employed today as a kindergarten teacher.

Roxanne married her high school sweetheart, Michael Buncich, in 1989. They have two daughters, Alexis and Mikella. Some of Roxanne's fondest memories came from her years at Conemaugh Township. She recalled several stories relating to the student fan section, then called the "Hecklers," but now referred to as the "Rowdies."

Roxanne recounted one humorous story, "My junior year, we were waiting for our basketball coach, Coach Major's, six hundredth victory. The basketball players' mothers had made a celebration cake for him, but we kept losing, so every game we had to keep refreezing the cake!" Roxanne stated she was very appreciative of her time at Conemaugh Township and she loved all of her teachers. "Both Mr. Andolina and Mrs. Bowman served as fantastic role models. They prepared me for college the most!"
